Neutrality Of Cambodia Not Violated, Belief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's legal defense of American military action in Cambodia seeks support in the U.S. Constitution and the U.N. Charter and rejects the suggestion Cambodian neutrality has been violated.

But this position is challenged by a former State Department legal adviser who is a recognized international law expert. Harvard Prof. Abram Chayes accuses President Nixon of flouting international law and says his administration has no respect for national boundaries.

Nixon did not set forth any legal basis in announcing the action to the American public April 30 except to say "I shall meet my responsibility as commander in chief of our armed forces to take the action I consider necessary to defend the security of our American men."

He relied on Article II Section 2 of the Constitution which provides "the president shall be commander in chief of the Army and Navy of the United States."

Internationally, the government is mindful of the general prohibition to the use of force in the U.N. Charter. But it notes that Article 51 reserves "the inherent right of individual or collective self-defense if an armed attack occurs against a member of the United Nations."

Ambassador Charles W. Yost called this exception to the attention of Secretary General U Thant in a letter May 5. Yost described the military move as an appropriate measure of collective self-defense by U.S. and South Vietnamese armed forces.

To this, a government source added: "When the action is coming from a neutral country which is unable to protect its territory from being used, our position is you are entitled to take self-defensive action on the neutral's territory."

The source, a knowledgeable official who asked that his name not be used, said he was emphasizing that the neutral country, Cambodia, was unable to take defensive action against North Vietnamese forces.

U.S. Navy Plans Mekong River Stretch Assault

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy boats are planning an assault up the Mekong River to help open a 60-mile stretch of the waterway to the Cambodian capital of Phnom Penh, official sources said today. They reported the operation will begin Friday.

If the operation materializes, the Navy boats will be in for some sharp fighting. North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces are dotted along most of the waterway and control the ferry crossing at Neak Luong, 37 miles southwest of Phnom Penh.

Invasion Limit

President Nixon has said he would not send American forces beyond 21.7 miles into Cambodia without seeking congressional approval.

The operation would take half of the 500 Americans involved all the way to Phnom Penh. The sources said there will be 40 U.S. boats and 60 South Vietnamese craft.

The South Vietnamese part of the operation was first disclosed by the Foreign Ministry in an unprecedented public announcement of a future operation.

A spokesman for the U. S. Command said he had no comment on the reports but added: "If there is American participation, we will announce it at the appropriate time."

There also were reports that U.S. 7th Fleet aircraft carriers were maneuvering in the Gulf of Tonkin off North Vietnam but the intention was not clear.

In announcing the operation, the Foreign Ministry said air cover would be provided for the flotilla, but it did not make clear whether these would be U.S. or South Vietnamese aircraft, or both.

May Enter Port

In a related development, it was learned that the government is considering an amphibious assault at the big port of Kompong Som—formerly Sihanoukville—and the Cambodian base of Ream, reported to be threatened by North Vietnamese troops only 20 miles away. Ream is 15 miles southeast of Kompong Som.

Presumably the South Vietnamese are seeking American support for this amphibious assault should they decide to carry it off.

Sources said the American part of the task force in the Phnom Penh operation on the Mekong River will include 38 gunboats armed with .50-caliber machine guns and two 350-foot long landing ships to be used as command posts.

Will Rescue Civilians

The landing ships also will help carry back any of the 200,000 Vietnamese living in Phnom Penh who want to return to their homeland.

The 60 South Vietnamese navy gunboats will have mixed American and Vietnamese crews informants said. They added that some of the American boats will go all the way up the river, the others only half way.

The Foreign Ministry said the flotilla also will be protected by South Vietnamese troops, presumably riding in attack boats along with their U.S. infantry advisers.

Bombing Raids Were Planned To 'Relay' Message To Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major aim of the big U.S. air raids on North Vietnam was to help drive home the Nixon administration message to Hanoi that the time has come for real peace talks.

This is acknowledged privately by some officials, although the publicly stated reason for the air attacks on four key areas along the North Vietnamese-Laotian border was to protect unarmed reconnaissance planes from antiaircraft fire.

White House sources last week indicated the U.S.-South Vietnamese troop drive against the Cambodian sanctuaries also had the purpose of sending a tough message to Hanoi that the United States was finished making one-sided concessions after nearly two years of fruitless meetings in Paris.

Therefore, the air raids against North Vietnam last weekend emerge in perspective as part of a diplomatic-military ploy.

The message-sending aspect of the "protective reaction" strikes against antiaircraft gun and missile positions was made clear Wednesday by Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird.

He said "the raids were carried on to make sure that the North Vietnamese understood that we intended to use air power should the reconnaissance planes be fired upon. . .flying over North Vietnam."

Although the "reinforced protective reaction" strikes by as many as 100 planes in a single operation did have an intent to safeguard the lives of U.S. reconnaissance pilots, Pentagon sources made it plain they also had the broader purpose of jolting the North Vietnamese toward meaningful negotiations.

Pilots engaged in the strikes reportedly were given some latitude, probably more than had been the case in the past, on what they could hit.

State Colleges Pray, Protest

By The Associated Press

Some in prayer, most in protest, Michigan's college campuses reacted again today to new U.S. involvement in Cambodia and the deaths of four students in an antiwar demonstration Monday at Ohio's Kent State University.

Classes were canceled at Wayne State University, Eastern Michigan University and Washtenaw County Community College today and Friday. At the state's largest institution for higher education, Michigan State University, classes were to be canceled Friday for the 38,000 students enrolled.

Some classes were canceled by individual professors or departments at the University of Michigan today, when a noon service was scheduled in memory of the slain Kent State students. President Robben Fleming was to speak.

President Louis W. Norris of Albion College said classes would be held today and Friday for those who chose to attend.

At Michigan Technological Institute at Houghton, President R.L. Smith was considering a resolution passed Wednesday night by the Student Council calling for a four-day halt of classes. Smith was expected to issue a statement later in the day on whether he endorsed the resolution, which would suspend classes today, Friday, Monday and Tuesday.

Plane Mishap Kills 17 People

MANILA (AP) — A crippled private plane crashed into a hut outside Manila's airport today and burst into flames, killing the 4 persons aboard and 13 in the house, including 9 children.

Aboard the plane were the pilot and three members of prominent business families.

The plane had just taken off on a flight to the resort city of Baguio when one of its two engines began smoking. The pilot got clearance for an emergency landing and was circling back when it crashed into the hut, said the plane's owner, Pacific Airways Corp.

State Abortion Bill Defeated

LANSING (AP) — A plan to liberalize Michigan's 124-year-old abortion law has failed by three votes in the state Senate, but proponents plan a second attempt at passage Tuesday.

"Believe me, we're not defeated," declared Sen. N. Lorraine Beebe, R-Dearborn, after the Senate voted 17-19 Wednesday against the reform measure.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, would have allowed a woman resident to obtain an abortion for any reason during the first 90 days of pregnancy.

If approved by both Senate and House, the measure would not have taken effect until after the Michigan Supreme Court issued an advisory opinion on its constitutionality.

Sen. Charles Youngblood, D-Detroit, tacked the court opinion amendment onto the bill in early debate Wednesday. Some attorney Senators had questioned the enforceability of several sections, including the residency and 90-day pregnancy provisions.

Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, one attorney on the Senate Judiciary Committee, voted against the proposal, saying that although he favored reform, he considered the bill a "cop-out" and "unenforceable."

Rejected before the final vote was an amendment which would have called for doctors to obtain the written consent of a husband before performing an abortion on the wife, if the two were living together.

As written by Mrs. Beebe's committee, the bill called only for doctors to take "all reasonable and diligent" steps to notify the husband.

The consent proposal, sponsored by Sen. John Toepp, R-Cadillac, was expected to be offered again next week, however, and some senators predicted it could pick up the 20 necessary votes needed for passage.

Bunker Denies He Plans To Resign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker says reports that he has already turned in his resignation as U.S. envoy to South Vietnam are erroneous.

Bunker, who arrived in Washington Wednesday night with Philip Habib, U.S. ambassador at the Paris peace talks, only smiled when asked if the retirement rumors would be true in the near future.

The 75-year-old diplomat has served in Saigon for over three years and returned here for consultations expected to last about 10 days.

Purge Of N. Vietnam Communists Foreseen

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Of The Associated Press

A resolution adopted by the ruling Politburo in North Vietnam makes it probable that there will be a widespread purge of Communists, high and low, in that country.

The furor over Cambodia has diverted attention from Hanoi's internal problems, but it seems likely that the forthcoming purge is connected with a power struggle in progress ever since Ho Chi Minh died last September.

Events Obscure Struggle

The prospects for this struggle are obscured by recent events which brought Red China back into the Indochina picture. It would seem that the outcome would affect Hanoi's prosecution of the wars in Laos, Cambodia and Vietnam, but the effect would be a matter of degree and of little comfort to Americans trying to extricate themselves.

In any case, a major North Vietnamese reshuffle seems to be in the works. An April 25 resolution of the Lao Dong—Workers—party politburo called bluntly for the expulsion of large number of members found wanting, and their replacement by a new "Ho Chi Minh class" of members. This is reminiscent of Communist reshuffles in other countries, following a Soviet pattern laid down by Joseph Stalin after Lenin died. The "Lenin enrollment" served to bolster Stalin's personal power as general secretary.

Secretary In Command?

The party secretary in North Vietnam is Le Duan, and his name alone is affixed to the resolution in the name of the whole Politburo. This suggests that he is in a commanding position. He is regarded as pro-Moscow, and at the same time a proponent of bold military measures in the South as opposed to long, patient and protracted "people's war" in the Chinese style of Mao Tse-tung.

The resolution, a toughly worded document, suggests that Hanoi has been having continuing troubles because of the war's demands. Some U.S. specialists profess to see signs that the troubles are mounting because of new strains of supporting invasions in Laos and Cambodia.

International Aspect

The international aspect is indicated by a demand that party members follow a line of "contributing to the restoration and strengthening of the unity of the Socialist bloc and the international Communist movement." This suggests that the struggle is far from resolved at the top level. For years there have been signs of a Hanoi tug of war between elements embracing the Soviet line and those preferring Mao's more Asian "Marxism."

While the Moscow-leaning Le Duan, as sole signer of the document, would seem now to have the upper hand, recent events have complicated the situation. Only a few days after the resolution was published, events in Cambodia spurred leaders of North Vietnam, the Viet Cong, the Laos leftists and Cambodia's Prince Sihanouk to a summit meeting for which Red China provided the territory, facilities and cheering section.

Peking One Up

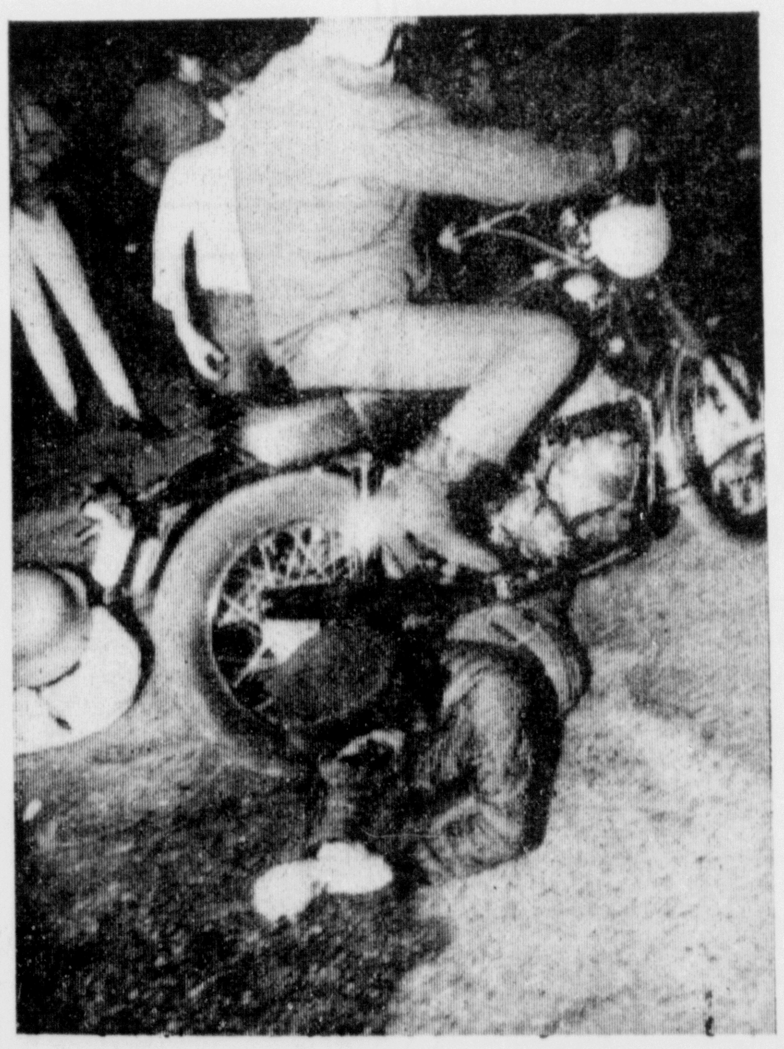
Peking seemed to go one up on Moscow in the contest for Hanoi's allegiance. Then Soviet Premier Alexein Kosygin let go with a strong denunciation of the Americans for the Cambodian drive and the new bombing of North Vietnam. He coupled this with a promise of new military hardware for North Vietnam.

All this could have an effect of restraining the developing power struggle in Hanoi, but the Politburo resolution indicates, the struggle must inevitably come to a head.

Peninsula Road Restrictions Off

LANSING — (AP) — Spring weight restrictions have been lifted on seasonal highways in the Upper Peninsula, the State Highway Department has announced.

Dissenter No Obstacle



A MOTORCYCLIST caught in a traffic jam Tuesday evening in Mankato, Minn., didn't care to be detained. The jam was caused by protesting students blocking the intersection of Front and Main Streets following a torchlight march and rally in front of Federal Post Office. When protestors lay down in the street, cyclists ran right over them as indicated in picture. (AP Wirephoto)

Guardsmen Told To Keep Protest Guns 'Unloaded'

WASHINGTON (AP) — National Guardsmen called out to control protests at four major universities across the country after the Kent State shootings have been given orders to keep their guns unloaded.

Troops sent into the University of Kentucky to enforce a night-long curfew were issued live ammunition Wednesday on orders from Gov. Louie B. Nunn, but the guardsmen were told not to load their rifles.

Ammunition was kept from guardsmen at the University of Wisconsin, where students built barricades in the streets and set them ablaze before being routed by tear gas Wednesday night.

Only in Ohio were guardsmen still carrying loaded rifles, but new warnings were issued against opening fire in the wake of the earlier deaths.

Four students were killed and 10 wounded Monday when Ohio National Guardsmen shot into a crowd of antiwar demonstrators at Kent State. What touched off the gunfire remains unclear, enmeshed in controversy and confusion.

Illinois put 5,000 guardsmen on standby alert and sent part of the force onto the Southern Illinois University campus after a clash Wednesday night. But the militia's top general said the troops had standing orders not to load or fire without a specific command from a senior officer.

Guard guns were also kept unloaded at the University of Maryland, where the last troops were withdrawn Wednesday after five days of demonstrations.

The Pentagon's riot regulations say troops are allowed to load their weapons only upon an officer's orders or if their lives are in danger.

Milliken Stays 'Home' During Present 'Crisis'

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William G. Milliken has cancelled plans to attend a three-day Republican governors' conference in Santa Fe, N.M. starting Thursday.

In a statement issued from his Lansing office late Wednesday, Milliken cited "potential for campus disorders" as his reason for staying behind.

"I have a responsibility as governor to maintain public order and to protect the right of peaceful dissent," Milliken said. "I intend to meet both of those responsibilities.

"Earlier this week, because of the potential for campus disorders, I cancelled plans for a speech in Grand Rapids in order to better. . . maintain close contact with university officials and State Police.

"For this reason I am cancelling plans to attend a governors' conference in New Mexico."

Campus Unrest Forces Closing Of 80 Schools

By The Associated Press

More than 80 colleges and universities were officially closed today in the growing campus protests against the war and the killing of four students at Kent State University in Ohio.

Most of the activities were peaceful but there were incidents of violence that brought National Guardsmen to schools in Kentucky and Illinois and new clashes at the University of Wisconsin in Madison.

Students at the University of Missouri and Syracuse University burned effigies of President Nixon during rallies.

Entire System Down

California Gov. Ronald Reagan closed the entire state college and university system totaling 28 campuses until Monday, asking that the 300,000 students reflect "on the grave sequence of current events."

He also asked the state's 92 two-year junior colleges with 750,000 students and the state's private colleges with about 100,000 to close, and many of them did.

"I want to make it very clear that closing the campuses...is not in any way giving in to those who preach and practice violence," he said in a statewide television talk. "This four-day period is support for those who believe in nonviolence."

18 Campuses Closed

Pennsylvania State University, with 18 campuses, was ordered closed. Ohio State University was closed by its president shortly after Gov. James A. Rhodes said all Ohio schools experiencing unrest should be shut.

The National Student Information Center at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass., said 258 schools had reported they were participating in the antiwar strike.

Gov. Louis B. Nunn of Kentucky ordered state police and National Guard troops "with mounted bayonets and live ammunition" onto the University of Kentucky campus to enforce a curfew. But the guardsmen were told not to load their rifles.

Curfew Ignored

His action came after 750 students ignored a 5 p.m. curfew ordered by university President Otis Singletary after an Air Force ROTC building was burned. "My decision was to wait until the campus was half burned down with lives being lost or to act," Nunn declared.

Apollo 14 Trip Being Delayed Until Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee told the space agency today to postpone until next year the scheduled Oct. 1 launch of the Apollo 14 moon flight.

The delay will give more time to study the problems encountered last month on the Apollo 13 flight, the committee said in a report on a $17 billion money bill.

An explosion aboard the Apollo 13 spacecraft forced the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to call off the moon landing and imperiled the lives of the crew before their lunar lander helped bring them home safely.

The bill, to be considered next week by the House, includes $3.2 billion for NASA for the fiscal year starting July 1. The $136 million cut in NASA funds includes $106 million lopped from the research and development allowance.

The $2.5 billion recommended for research and development would provide for one Apollo flight next year instead of the two originally planned.

The Committee said it did not intend to limit the number of moon landings but wants to defer some of them until the problems that bedeviled Apollo 13 are evaluated.

The House panel's recommendation came a day after Senate approval of a $3.5 billion space authorization bill.

Arms-Smuggling Plot Uncovered; Irish Fears High

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — The implication of two cabinet ministers in a plot to smuggle arms to the outlawed Irish Republican Army raised new fears today of another summer of violence in neighboring British-ruled Northern Ireland.

Prime Minister Jack Lynch told the Irish Parliament Wednesday night that he had fired Agriculture Minister Neil Blaney and Finance Minister Charles Haughey after receiving "informaion which purported to connect them with an alleged attempt to unlawfully import arms."

Attack On Dissenters Hit; GOP Aide Quits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration attacks on young dissenters have been denounced as "inflammatory rhetoric" by the President's own youth advisor and gently criticized by a Cabinet member.

Within hours Tuesday, a letter to the President from Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel suggesting the administration has shown a lack of concern for young people was made public and Nixon appointee Anthony J. Moffett resigned as director of the Office of Students and Youth.

Hickel, who said he had composed the letter for Nixon's eyes only, wrote that administration policies appear "to lack concern for the attitude of a great mass of Americans—our young people."

He politely suggested that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew be muzzled on the subject of student dissent.

"A continued attack on the young — not in their attitudes so much as their motives—can serve little purpose other than further to cement those attitudes to a solidity impossible to penetrate with reason," Hickel wrote.

Moffett, whose rumored resignation became official today with a strongly worded statement on the administration's attitudes toward youth, was less diplomatic.

Nixon, Moffett said in a statement, "has shown that he does not understand young people, nor does he wish to communicate with them."

He decried the President's characterization of rioting students as "bums" and his statement that the death of four Kent State University students by National Guard bullets should "remind us once again that when dissent turns to violence it invites tragedy."

"A tone has been set by this administration that has tended to increase polarization," Moffett said in an interview Wednesday night. "The inflammatory rhetoric in the air by administration officials did not help the situation there (Kent State)."

Hickel pleaded with Nixon to solicit the views of individual cabinet members on the current campus crisis and suggested consultations with college offi- cials

U.S. Mail 'Airlift' Now Centered In Iron Mountain

The volume of surface mail leaving Escanaba by air declined nearly two-thirds in April compared to a year ago because of a new directive from the Chicago Regional Office of the Postal Department.

North Central Airlines transported 4,119 pounds of surface mail and 3,906 pounds of air mail at Escanaba in April a year ago.

In April this year the total surface mail declined to 1,260 pounds and air mail to 3,785 pounds.

The decline of 2,859 pounds of surface mail transported by North Central here is primarily the result of the directive that became effective April 4, 1970.

New Policy

Postmaster James Pryal said the "managed mail processing" concept calls for:

Discontinuance of secondary distribution of first class letter mail at origin for all states beyond the range of overnight delivery."

This applies to surface mail, of course, and not to air mail.

However, implementation of the directive caused the bulk of surface mail from Escanaba to be trucked to Iron Mountain for dispatch on North Central planes, rather than to have it depart from Escanaba directly by air, as in the past.

Iron Mountain post office serves as the "sectional center" for mail from the Upper Peninsula except three counties — Chippewa, Mackinac and Luce.

Air Mail Declines

The decline in mail movement by air was revealed in figures on air traffic volume released for April by North Central Airlines.

The comparative statistics for the several categories of air service:

April 1969 — 2,015 passengers, down to 1,819 for the same month this year (Trans Michigan Airlines with its "direct route" to Lower Michigan transported about 200 passengers, explaining the North Central drop); air mail from 3,906 down to 3,785 pounds; surface mail 4,119 down to 1,260 pounds.

But both air express and air freight made gains, the figures for April show: Express increased from 2,996 to 6,162 pounds and freight from 11,281 up to 32,483 pounds. Both unusual increases were caused apparently by a strike in the trucking industry.

City Attorney Post Vacated

Atty. Robert F. LeMire, city attorney for Escanaba since last October, is resigning effective May 29 "because of the pressure of my private law practice."

City Manager George Harvey said that a successor to Atty. LeMire has not been named as yet. The position pays $7,200.

Atty. LeMire noted that he has "been associated with the City government in various capacities for over 22 years and have always enjoyed working for and on behalf of the city," but that "with the establishment of new District Court, it was necessary in the prosecution to spend a considerable amount of my time in court. "Consequently I was absent from my office and forced to neglect my private practice."

The late Atty. John G. Erickson served as city attorney for a number of years, and at his death Atty. LeMire was named to fill the vacancy.

Technology Seen Boon To Shortage Of Nation's Food

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A massive injection of technology can keep the world fed over the next 30 years despite booming population, an emminent scientist says.

"The natural resources available to present technology are sufficient to allow a vast improvement in the standard of living of all the people who will inhabit the earth 20 to 30 years from now," said Dr. Rogert Revelle, director of the Harvard Center for Population Studies.

Speaking at the opening of a three-day conference on technological change and population growth Wednesday at California Institute of Technology, Revelle asserted that birth control—although necessary—cannot be a substitute for economic development.

Some at the conference disagreed with Revelle.

"We cannot use the same technological bludgeon on the underdeveloped countries that we have used on our own, seriously deteriorating our environment," said John P. Holdren of Stanford University.

"There is no such thing as a free lunch," Holdren said. "It is paid for by someone."

Revelle said a "green revolution" is under way in some underdeveloped countries to feed the hungry with high-yield varieties of wheat, rice and cereals.

"If it is to continue," he said, "large expenditures for development of irrigation water, transportation, storage, food processing, and fertilizers must be made."

Speaking to newsmen before the conference, Revelle said the United States should:

—Provide more aid to the underdeveloped countries.

—Encourage birth control.

—"Try to tell the other rich countries how serious the problem really is so they will not turn their backs on the rest of the world."

"Escanaba is a growing community and we have confidence in the community," Keough said.

"Our business for 25 years has been built on service to the customer," he added, pointing out that Northland's motto is "Your Store For Assured Service."

League Opposing School Aid Bills

The League of Women Voters of Michigan today announced its opposition to the use of public money to aid non-public education in the state of Michigan.

The league now will begin action to oppose present legislation, senate bill 1082 and house substitute bill 1082, the school-aid bills in which Chapter II embodies aid to non-public schools.

The league also declined to take part in the present petition drive which calls for an amendment to the Michigan constitution to prohibit aid to non-public schools.

Mrs. James Atkinson, president of the League of Women Voters of Michigan, termed Chapter II of both bills, "a form of legislative arm-twisting. We are forced to permit financial aid to non-public education, or we will have no new school-aid bill. There is no alternative."

Chapter II of both bills would grant aid to non-public schools by providing funds for salaries of lay teachers teaching secular subjects in non-public schools.

"League members throughout the state have reached agreement on strong opposition to state aid for non-public education," Mrs. Atkinson stated. "It is our feeling that at this point to stop the proposed non-public school aid provisions of these present school-aid bills, we must oppose them in their entirety.

"We are aware," Mrs. Atkinson continued, "we will be placed in the position of opposing a bill which also provides aid to public schools. However, we must speak out against being forced to accept aid for non-public schools in order to get additional money for public schools.

The League is not participating in the drive to petition for a constitutional amendment prohibiting aid to non-public schools, since it was the concensus of the League that shared-time programs, bus privileges, and auxiliary services for non-public schools be continued.

Parents' Days Slated At NMU This Weekend

MARQUETTE — The Associated Women Students at Northern Michigan University are sponsoring a Parents Day program at the university for Saturday and Sunday.

The program will begin with tours of the campus from 10 a.m. to noon on Saturday. These tours will start at the Information Desk of the University Center and the lobby of the Gant-Spalding dormitory complex.

From 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday, in rooms 227, 229 and 231 of the Instructional Facility building, discussion sessions will be held with representatives of the university's Dean of Students office, Housing office, Financial Aids office and the Academic Proficiency Committee. Refreshments will be served by the AWS during this time.

Parents are invited to attend the Greek Week Carnival that night, at which the Greek God and Goddess will be named. The carnival, which will bring to a close the week-long schedule of events held by fraternities and sororities on the campus, will begin at 8 p. m. in the C. B. Hedgcock Fieldhouse.

On Sunday, parents are invited to attend church services in the Marquette area, and to eat with their sons or daughters at the dormitory cafeterias. Tickets for the meals may be purchased at the dining areas.

National Meet

The 50th Anniversary Convention of the League of Women Voters is being held May 4-8 at the Sheraton Park Hotel in Washington D. C., largest convention in League history and the first to be held in the nation's capital.

The League of Women Voters of Escanaba chose Kathleen Voelker, Escanaba, as their delegate to the convention.

"Miss Voelker has with her 628 signatures our League members gathered during the petition drive April 15-22," said Dorrine Anderson, Gladstone, League president. "The petitions ask for a constitutional amendment to give residents of Washingon, D.C. the right to vote for congressional representatives," she added.

"The League of Women Voters conducted the petition drive nationwide. Members presented their petitions to the senior Senator of their state after a rally on Capitol Hill Wednesday."

The convention will elect National Board officers for the next two years and will adopt a national League program. Proposed issues for the national program are: environmental quality, human resources, foreign policy, and representative government.

Concert Time

Maybe it's the spring that brings the music into the air, but the Escanaba Area is in the midst of one of the greatest concert periods of recent years.

The Escanaba Area High School Choral Music department kicked off the county's version of a "May Festival" last week in its annual spring concert at William W. Oliver Auditorium Tuesday night. This week, the University of Michigan Men's Glee Club was in Escanaba to entertain in the same auditorium.

Tonight, the Escanaba Area High School Concert Band and Symphony Orchestra take over the stage.

Sunday, the Holy Name High School Band and choral groups will unite in an evening concert at Holy Name. Sunday afternoon, the Rock public schools will hold a Music Festival. Powers-Spalding will host the "Festival of Song" for elementary youngsters Monday.

Next Thursday, the State Youth Symphony will be in Escanaba to play a concert as part of the Delta County Youth Arts Festival. Then Sunday, May 17, the Gladstone High School band will conclude the Youth Arts Festival with a concert in the high school gymnasium.

In slightly over two weeks Delta County residents will have been given the opportunity to sit in on at least eight major concert programs featuring some of the finest young musicians in the state.

Make no mistake, the musicians of Delta County are every bit as talented, and maybe more so, as musicians in other areas. Invariably, band, orchestra and vocal festival competition in the Upper Peninsula proves that local schools need not take a back seat to anyone.

The array of musical talent in the area also is displayed in the number of excellent church choirs, the musical productions staged in the high schools and by Players de Noc, by the number of professional bands which have originated in the area and in the Escanaba Municipal Band.

Development of that talent, however, takes a great deal of hard work on the part of the people in the schools — people like Conrad Beck, John Chown, Mrs. Rosemary LeMire, Paul Cowan, C. J. Marrier, David Laakso, Robert Chase and others.

Some of their concerts, the fruits of an entire year of work with the same students in a band, orchestra or choir, are over. Others are coming up, with dates already announced. More programs will be scheduled in the coming weeks.

The best tribute the people of the community can give to the musicians and the directors is to fill the gymnasiums and auditoriums. The time will be well spent.

'Conservation Fraud'

In the last 50 years billions of dollars have been spent on conservation and yet "it is impossible to define conservation" according to Alex Truffey, assistant to the secretary of the Department of the Interior.

The reason for the lack of definition is that conservation "is a state of emotion, a bit of nostalgia, and a wish for Utopia. The problem is that one man's Utopia is another man's Hades," says Charles Zurhorst, author of "The Conservation Fraud." As a result, much of the money is "utterly wasted due to departmental conflicts, duplications and inconsistencies."

One example of conflict, says Zurhorst, is that "in the name of conservation, the U. S. Department of Agriculture actively and eagerly promotes the drainage of marshlands all across the nation — while the U. S. Department of the Interior, in what it considers conservation, just as actively and just as eagerly promotes the extensions of marshlands."

In another case, involving inconsistency, the Tennessee Valley Authority, which was established partly for conservation purposes, costs the taxpayers more than $36 million a year to "heal" its strip-mining landscape scars. The U. S. Forest Service must undo TVA's damage.

In the matter of duplication Zurhorst points to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare which spent 13 years doing research on sulfur oxides, air pollutants, while other agencies were doing the same thing. Furthermore, HEW, through the use of inefficient incinerators was also creating air pollution.

Undeterred by all of this, the government shows no signs of stopping long enough to find out what it means by conservation. With new emphasis placed on conservation by President Nixon, it is all too likely that federal agencies will grow enough more confused and duplicate even more of each other's work as each scrambles for funds. The one thing that won't be conserved is the taxpayer's dollar.

Peninsula Potpourri

Wearing the American flag sewn upside down on the back pocket of his pants cost a down-state Northern Michigan University student a $50 fine, $26.50 costs, and landed him in the Marquette county jail for five days. That's the sentence handed down by Judge Stephen J. Catel in Marquette District Court to Stephen C. Spitzey, 18, of Grosse Pointe Farms. Spitzley was found guilty by the court to a charge of desecration of the American flag lodged against him by Marquette city police.

Baraga County Clerk Bernard J. Lambert is walking without crutches — a miracle he claims — after he discarded them while attending evening mass at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in L'Anse on April 3. Lambert, who had suffered from arthritis and used crutches for five years, suddenly left the crutches in the church pew and walked to the communion station to receive communion. He walked out of church and has been walking since.

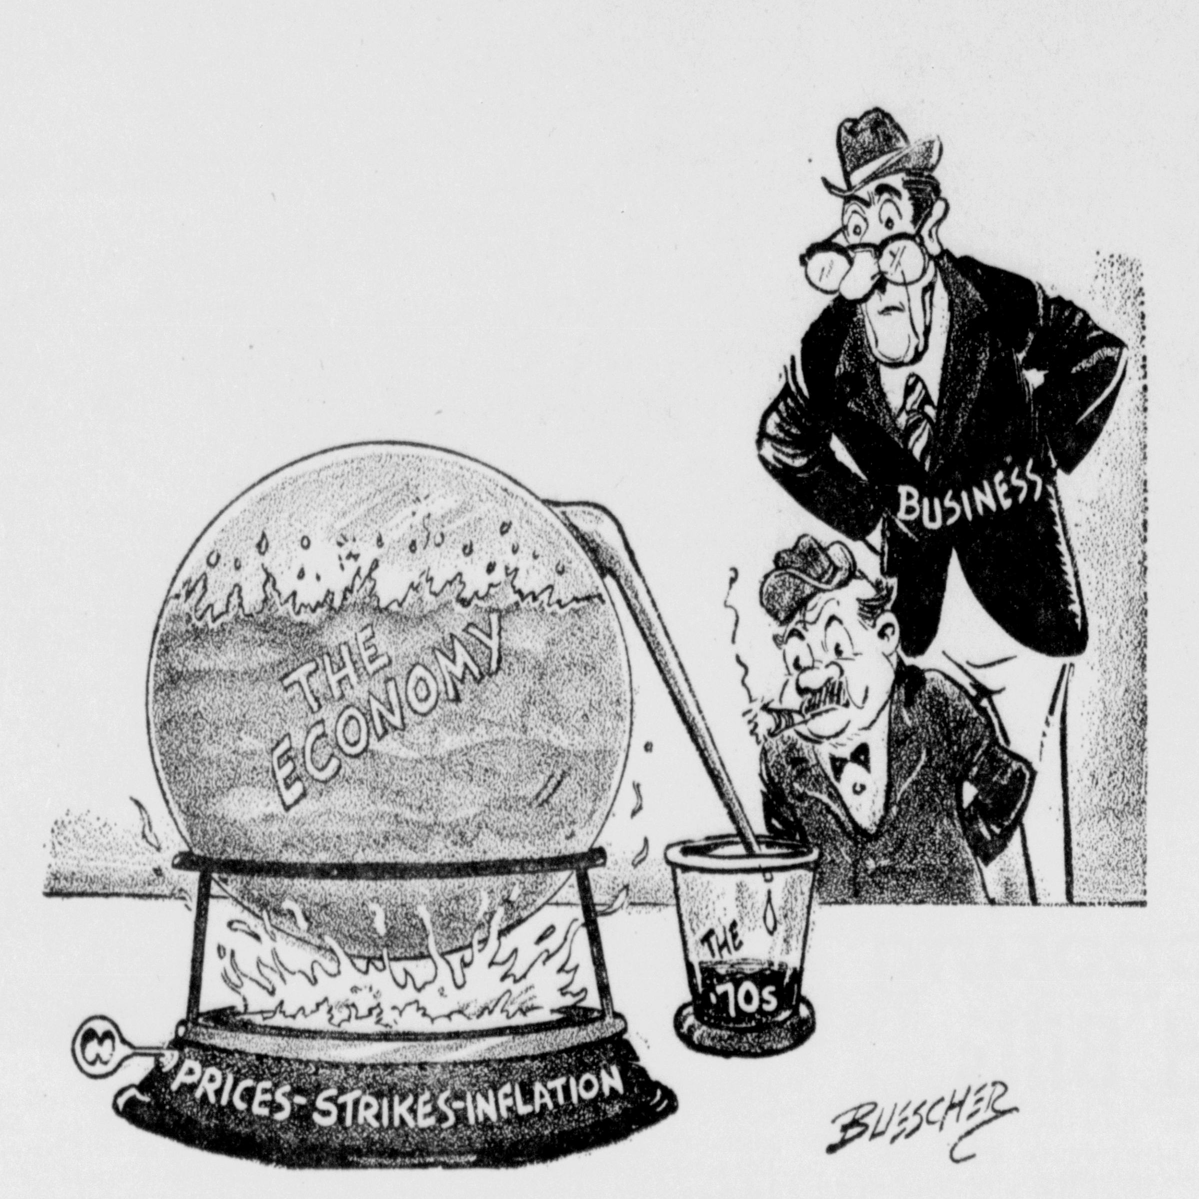
WHAT'S BREWING?



Nixon Move Sticks To 'Guam Doctrine'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Not so long ago a prominent conservative who knows the ABCs of strategic thinking said of President Nixon: "He is not sure of himself. He can be pushed and pulled by conflicting pressures even to the point of giving up a policy or course of action which he strongly believes in."

I spare mention of the critic's name, for now, after the courageous Nixon decision to give support to the South Vietnamese army as it moves against the vietcong just over the border in Cambodia, I am sure he is happily eating his words. As a matter of fact the critic could not have been really surprised by the Nixon action, for, in the same statement, he had paid respect to the President's "almost instinctual appreciation of Communism in all its aspects, including its ultimate purpose and its general modus operandi."

Militarily speaking, the "ultimate purpose" of the Communists is to outflank the Free World.

The great trouble in the U.S. as is proved practically everyday by the Senatorial doves, is that our geographical distance from what might be called the hinges of the world — Singapore, Suez, Gibraltar — inhibit sour common sense. We have a philosophical interest in opposing Communism anywhere, but, prudentially, we can't take the Marxists on in their own heartland areas.

As Hitler and Napoleon both proved by failure, Moscow is "out of bounds." But we can use our power, preferably, in an indirect way, to keep the Communists from outflanking our own democratic heartland areas in western Europe and the western hemisphere. Douglas MacArthur knew this — and, incidentally, he was against committing U.S. infantrymen on the Asian landmass.

MacArthur's plan for a "second Inchon" behind the North Korean and Red Chinese lines contemplated using two divisions of U.S. Marines, but the bulk of the forces would have been 500,000 of Chiang Kai-shek's troops.

The plan was disallowed, but it would have been in the spirit of Nixon's decision to give the South Vietnamese quick help in cornering the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese over the border in Cambodia, and then limiting our future help to advisory, logistical and air support.

The Senatorial doves — Church, Aiken, Fulbright and the rest — have the mistaken belief that all cats must grow up to be tigers and that every sapling is destined to be a redwood tree. They see Nixon throwing 50,000 American troops into a Cambodia-Laos ground action escalation just because Lyndon Johnson and Robert McNamara, who knew considerably less about good strategical thinking than any good high school football blocking back, had committed that many soldiers to South Vietnam. (The sensible thing to have done back at Tonkin Gulf time would have been to blockade North Vietnam, blow the dikes of its chief river, and threaten Peking with Chiang Kai-shek's troops if it made a move to interfere.)

It is precisely because Nixon knows the "general modus operandi" of the Moscow Communists that he won't send drafted U.S. ground soldiers, or "grunts," on any continuing basis into Cambodia or Laos.

The Russians themselves don't fight with direct manpower commitment. Where they don't have contiguous borders with the nations they have marked out to hold for "socialism" (Hungary, Czechoslovakia) they limit their aid to armaments, advisers and behind-the-line technicians. They get maximum yardage without shedding Russian blood.

Are we to suppose that Nixon, who learned about Comunist strategy and tactics from that most learned of all teachers, the late Whittaker Chambers, is any less intelligent than Brezhnev? If Nixon ever does send American ground troops into Cambodia or Laos in any kind of mass, I'll eat my words in any public place that Sen. George Aiken chooses.

Nixon is going to take a terrifying amount of flak from the doves and the Left in general for his decision to let the South Vietnamese conduct their own war as part of "Vietnamization." It is important that his supporters try to explain the decision in terms that will be understandable to a nation of football fans who, every Sunday in the Fall, watch the behemoths try to turn a flank here, or go overhead there.

The Southeast Asian flank must be protected, but without taking too much strength from our "center," which means the home front. Strategy dictates aid to the Cambodians without committing masses of U.S. troops.

Incidentally, this is what the Guam Doctrine is about. Nixon is consistent, and he is sure of himself.

Electronic Computer Fad Seen Weakening Today

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — The electronic computer, to which many companies hitched their wagon during the explosive expansion of the 1960s, is beginning in some instances to drag like a weighty millstone as the economy contracts.

One of the best illustrations of the developing situation involved the collapse recently of the McDonnell & Co. brokerage firm, but there are many other examples. A typical situation is this:

During the late 1960s a company's business is increasing rapidly, so fast, in fact, that it cannot hire enough experienced clerical help to deal with its paperwork. A computer, it reasons, could do the work of 50 clerks.

Projecting a continuation of increased sales and earnings for the next five years, the company decides that it might as well plow a considerable amount of money into expensive equipment. No sense getting caught short again.

Aiding in the decision is the new electronic data processing manager who argues that while the new machinery might not pay off immediately, it certainly will become profitable by the 1970s. And so the company buys a big new computer.

Then the economic expansion stops. In fact, the company's sales begin to sag and, looking over the books, the management group decides it must cut back. But where? It could have cut 25 clerical workers. But it's stuck with the big computer.

More and more companies are facing such situations today, according to consultants at Brandon Applied Systems, Inc., which advises computer owners on management and technical matters.

"We think it reasonable to expect further collapses of the McDonnell kind," said a spokesman, "as well as reduced earnings for corporations with a heavy investment in data processing. Insurance companies, banks and brokers may be dragged down the most."

For this and other reasons, many companies are taking perhaps their first critical look at their computer systems. No longer are they content to sit back and believe that wonders are being worked.

"The beginning of the computer revolution is over and this beginning has been a failure in terms of what might have been achieved," says a spokesman for the consulting firm of Touche Ross.

He adds: "Many business managers stood back in awe of both the machinery and the personnel of the systems operation, and a lot of the technical people didn't deliver workable business systems."

No Resolutions Against Nation's Policy, City Says

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — City commissioners in Grand Rapids say it would be "arrogant nonsense" for them to pass resolutions criticizing national policies.

The commissioners replied Wednesday to a request from several youths for resolutions opposing use of U.S. troops in Cambodia and deploring the slaying of four students at Kent State University during antiwar protests.

The youths also asked the commissioners to declare May 11 "Bring the Boys Home Now" day in Grand Rapids.

The commissioners said they cannot speak for the city's residents on national matters and suggested the youths make their protests to the proper federal officials.

Opening lead—six of spades.

The player who plunges ahead without thinking is bound to run into trouble at least once in a while.

Take this case where West leads a spade against three notrump. Many players would impulsively win East's king with the ace and attack clubs by leading the ace.

No sooner would they do this than they would find themselves in a peck of trouble, and in fact, they would eventually go down either two or three tricks. They would be unable to recover, whatever they did, and the long club suit would go down the well-known drain.

It is surely proper to win East's king of spades with the ace, but declarer's next play should be the eight (or nine) of clubs. Let's see the effect of this in the actual deal.

East wins with the ten as West shows out. Declarer takes the spade return with the queen, enters dummy with a diamond, and leads a club. East can do no better than put up the pack, which South wins with the king. Now declarer plays a heart to the ace and leads another club, trapping the Q-7 with his A-9. South makes nine tricks consisting of five clubs, two spades, a heart and a diamond.

Declarer has no way of knowing at the start that the clubs are divided 4-0, but he should realize when he sees dummy that only a 4-0 division can jeopardize the contract. He should consequently prepare for that possibility by leading the eight of clubs.

This guards against four clubs in East's hand, which is the limit of what he can guard against. True, South will cost himself a 30-point trick by making the play — if the clubs are divided 2-2 — but that is really a minor consideration.

Woman Thinks Her Cat Is Homosexual

Dear Ann Landers: Is there such a thing as homosexuality among cats? We have a male Siamese who wants nothing to do with female cats. He has been given many opportunities to make friends with any number of attractive, healthy girl cats but he ignores them all and chums up to the males.

At first we thought it was funny. Now we are concerned that he is not normal. Please let us know if our suspicions are correct. — North Carolina Problem

Dear N. C.: I checked with five veterinarians and came away with three different answers.

One veterinarian said, "Yes, your cat may be a homosexual —if he has a hormonal imbalance resulting from castration." Another said, "Cats can become neurotic if subjected to neurotic people. A melancholy cat might turn gay." Another said, "Homosexuality is a natural phenomenon which occurs in all species, especially cows."

Two veterinarians said, "There is no such thing as homosexuality among animals, if we mean by homosexuality, the aberration as it occurs in humans." I'm inclined to accept the word of the last two doctors.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: I enjoy cooking and I prepare good meals. Please tell me why my husband NEVER can come to the table when I call him. He has either just started to read something, or he is involved with a TV show, or he must make some phone calls. I nearly get apoplexy because of his maddening habit. He says he can't help it and I should get off his back. What should I do?—Las Vegas

Dear L. V.: Get off his back. This "habit" probably goes back to the days when his mother called him to the table and he used the stalling technique as a mechanism to keep from being "ordered around."

You aren't going to change him, so change your routine. Announce that dinner will be served at a certain time. Give him 30 minutes notice. Call him once. If he's involved in something else, go ahead and eat and let Sonny Boy have the dried out reheated hash—when he gets ready.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: My conscience is bothering me. Jordy and I used to have a lot of fun. Then he began to confide in me and tell me his innermost feelings. Our dates have turned into psychiatric sessions. Now he openly verbalizes his hatred for his mother, his fear of his father, his competitiveness with his brothers and his disgust with his sister.

I realize he needs someone to talk to but he tells me such intimate things I get depressed every time we go out. I've laughingly said, "I'm no shrink," and have tried to change the subject. But it's useless. He goes on and on.

We are both 17, but I feel like 100 after three hours with him. What should I do?— Psyched Out

Dear Psyched: Some people don't mind listening—particularly if they feel it serves a useful purpose. Since you DO mind, and the boy's unloading has a depressing effect on you, ease him off your date list— gently.

U-M Chancellor Selection Due

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A 13-member committee will meet next Tuesday to discuss selection of a chancellor for the University of Michigan's Dearborn campus.

The advisory committee, made up of representatives from the student body, faculty and the general public, is headed by Dr. David Emerson, professor of chemistry at the Dearborn school.

The committee has been asked to prepare quality and experience qualifications for the post, help compile a list of suitable candidates and devise methods to communicate the thinking of the faculty, students and the community regarding the chancellorship.

In addition, the group has been asked to determine and advise President Robben Fleming of the problems facing the Dearborn campus against which the qualifications and interests of prospective candidates can be judged.

Seeks Judge Post

HONOR (AP)—Kenneth Fewlass of Honor, former Benzie County prosecutor, has filed nominating papers with the secretary of state's office qualifying him as a candidate for election as district judge in the 85th Michigan judicial district. The office has been vacant since early this spring following the disqualification of former Judge David Bailey of Manistee.

NOT A DELAYING TACTIC

We would like to comment on the editorial in the Daily Press of April 30 concerning the U. S. 2 and 41 by-pass from Gladstone to Rapid River and titled "Delaying Tactic."

First of all, for the record, we are not trying to delay the highway job as stated. The proposed exit on the north-bound lane is ridiculous, and it would not take much of an engineer to figure this out. It was stated in the article that from an access standpoint, the design probably isn't the best. It looks as though whoever wrote the article doesn't care how it is. They are just concerned about getting the highway in and out of the way.

The businessmen from Gladstone to Rapid River are fighting for their livelihood. We are only asking for a decent access to our area, which we don't think is asking too much.

Everyone knows the by-pass is going to hurt business in this area a great deal.

The access we are asking for was promised to us about two years ago at a Gladstone City Commission meeting when there were about 12 men in attendance from the State Highway Department and this is what we want. Nothing less.

The editorial that appeared in the Daily Press was very one-sided and had no merit whatsoever.

State To Check Validity Of Parochiaid Petitions

BY DON HOENSHELL
Panax Staff Write

LANSING — State elections officials said they will investigate reports that petitions to put the issue of parochiaid on the November ballot have 16 mistakes in printing and language.

Legal experts here said if the petitions cannot be brought into compliance with elections laws they will have to be scrapped.

"We'll certainly want to find out about it," said James Chapman, supervisor in the state elections bureau. "But if we approved it, it's all right and we won't knock it down."

Dr. David Evans, executive director of Council Againt Parochiaid, said the group's own legal counsel fly-specked the petition form for compliance with the laws before they were printed.

It is known that Elections Director Bernard Apol, now working parttime after a heart attack, consulted with CAP on the petition form.

The issue was raised by Rep. Roy Smith (R-Ypsilanti), who said he counted 16 errors in the petition based on legal directions from Atty. Gen.. Frank J. Kelley for his own Fair Share Tax Plan petitions.

"This (the CAP petition) is a masterpiece," Smith said.. It leaves out whole words, leaves out the required printing of the section of the constitution being abrogated and has typographical errors.

"For educated people to have drafted it, it's a masterpiece. In my feeling, the anti-parochiaid petitions are invalid."

Evans, heading up the drive for signatures in all 83 counties for a combination of 25 organizations, said the petitions were cleared by every appropriate authority. Of Smith, he said:

"He's out of his mind. We had the petition checked by our own attorney and it was approved by the Secretary of State's office in Lansing. This is nit-picking."

245,000 Signatures

Evans said the drive has about 14 percent of the 245,000 signatures needed to place it on the ballot and that the target to provide a cushion is 415,000.

"My personal goal is 500,000 signatures, just to make certain," Evans said. "May 30 is our own target day, leaving us about five weeks to get any more that we need."

Chapman said court cases in the past have required only "substantial compliance" and that any two petitions might differ in appearance..

"Very seldom do we throw them out unless they are in such bad shape that we can't make them comply at all," he said.

He said the language is new to the constitution — banning the use of any public money to support nonpublic schools — and he would have to get a legal ruling whether it abrogates any other section and, if so, whether the old section must be printed.

"We haven't had a chance to investigate it yet," he said.

Must Be Certified

Secretary of State James M. Hare said he has not been in touch with the campaign or the problem, but that it would be met by the Board of State Canvassers in the certification process.

"The board won't get into it until it is ready to go on the ballot," Hare said.

In the legislature, the state aid bill for schools still carries with it a $22 million appropriation, approved by both houses, for parochiaid.

The bill has been stalled in the legislature because of objections to its size by Gov. Milliken and Senate Republican leaders and by the heavy pressure of educational organizations against adopting any bill containing parochiaid.

Child Dragged By Car In Fair Condition Today

A four-year-old rural Escanaba girl was hospitalized in Escanaba Wednesday after being dragged for about eight-tenths of a mile behind an automobile driven by her mother, State Police reported.

Angeila Skoglund was reported in fair condition at St. Francis Hospital this morning. Hospital authorities reported she is under treatment for contusions and abraisions of her face and body.

State Police said the girl's mother, Mrs. Nancy Skoglund, Rte. 1, Escanaba, was driving away from her home and her daughter grabbed the rear bumper. Officers said the girl apparently was afraid to let go and was dragged about eight-tenths of a mile before she was discovered.

The accident happened about 12:15 p. m., Monday on County Rd. 414 just south of the Ford River, troopers reported.

BEHIND the COUNTER with

Bob Krohmer

An American drug company recently conducted a survey to see how much we spend on six common skin disorders: acne, dermatitis, eczema, fungal disease (such as athlete's foot), psoriasis and warts. The study included only prescription drugs, but the annual total was over 100 million dollars.

In addition, millions more are spent on other skin disorders, such as hives and impetigo, and on over-the-counter lotions and remedies, such as zinc oxide and calamine. Despite the wonder drugs and new treatments, skin disorders are still a major medical problem.

Dermatologists have some helpful advice for those suffering from such disorders:

1) If a rash or sore continues after the suspected cause has been removed, or if any growth bleeds, becomes sore, increases in size, or changes its color or appearance — seek medical help. Applying home remedies may only mask the true condition, or convert a simple problem into a chronic one.

2) Avoid scratching as much as possible since this speeds up inflammation. Calamine lotion is better than a back scratcher.

3) To avoid a rash spreading or re-occurring, discard or disinfect anything that has come in contact with the affected area.

4) Never borrow another person's medication. Both your condition and your reaction to the drug may be different.

5) If you have a dry skin itch, you may be taking too many baths. Cut them down to one a week, plus daily sponge baths.

Census Workers Make Final Check

Were you counted in Census '70?

With the 1970 Census of Population and Housing virtually completed locally, District Manager Mrs. Robert Hansley announced the beginning of a "Were You Counted?" campaign to insure that no resident of the area has been overlooked.

If you think you or your family might have been missed, you are urged to notify the census district office.

Preliminary figures giving the total population of incorporated places of 10,000 or more population, and for counties, will be issued as soon as the District Manager is convinced that a complete count has been made. Final, detailed population figures will be issued from Washington later this year after returns have been tabulated by the Census Bureau's electronic computers.

The importance of a complete count was stressed by the District Manager. She pointed out that the population figures compiled in the current census must stand as official until the next Federal census.

Market Showing Steady Upswing

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market climbed steadily on a broad front in slow trading early this afternoon.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was up 6.73 at 725.12.

Gainers outnumbered declining stocks by about 3 to 1 among issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers described the advance as a technical gain, an upward correction of recent sharp losses. They say professional traders are mostly responsible for the rally.

The absence of large block trades indicated to some analysts that both institutions and the general public are generally staying on the sidelines. They say the general investing public still appears to be wary because of the soft economy and U.S. action in Cambodia.

Chrysler Plans Workers' Recall

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. announced today it is recalling 450 laid off workers and employing an additional 150 at its Los Angeles assembly plant, effective May 18.

Chrysler said daily production at Los Angeles will be increased from 200 to 360 passenger cars daily and total employment raised to 2,150.

The plant will be shut down next week for retooling and worker training to permit construction of compact Plymouth Valiants and Dodge Darts at the plant for the first time this model year.

Chrysler said the Los Angeles production of Valiants and Darts is being started to meet what it said was increasing customer demand for the compact models. Plymouth Belveders and Dodge Coronets also are produced at Los Angeles.

Imported Fish Bill Approved By House

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan House has passed a bill which its sponsors say would cut the market price of fresh water fish by as much as 11-15 cents a pound and aid an industry threatened by mercury pollution.

The bill, sent to the Senate after a 63-33 passage in the House Wednesday, would relax state restrictions on fish caught and processed in other states or foreign countries then imported to Michigan.

Upper Peninsula legislators opposed it as a threat to already hard-pressed commercial fishermen operating in Lake Superior and northern Lake Michigan waters.

Any effect on the consumer's market price, however, would be delayed until some time next year as the bill stands now. The House failed to muster a two-thirds vote to make it effective immediately upon Senate passage and Gov. William G. Milliken's enacting signature.

Rep. Warren Goemaere, D-Roseville, Conservation Committee chairman, said the bill was brought out of committee, after being introduced more than a year ago, because commercial fish wholesalers and processors complained their business was threatened by mercury pollution in Lake St. Clair and the St. Clair River. Michigan has no commercial fishing in those waters.

The bill would amend the 1929 Commercial Fishing Law to allow importers from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Colorado or foreign countries such as Canada, Holland, Germany and Japan to ship fish meeting their own area standards to Michigan if labeled with the area of origin.

The importer also would have to show "a chain of satisfactory evidence of importation is maintained through to the retailer who sells to the consumer."

Present Michigan law sets size standards that require fish brought into Michigan to be sorted according to specific species length and weighth. Whitefish, for example, may not be less than 17 inches long, lake trout of less than 1¼ pounds dressed or 1½ pounds in the round.

Rep. Wayne Sackett, R-Portage, sponsor of the bill, said sorting to meet those standards raises Michigan prices.

He said that of 11.3 pounds eaten every year by the average consumer, all but 4.8 pounds are from outside the state and only a half-pound comes from Great Lakes waters.

Rep. John Payant, R-Kingsford, called the bill "the final straw in eliminating Michigan commercial fishermen."

Acting on a related matter, Speaker William A. Ryan named Goemaere, Sackett and Reps. Raymond Kehres, D-Monroe, Raymond Baker, R-Farmington, to a committee chaired by Rep. Joseph M. Snyder, D-St. Clair Shores, that will investigate the Lakes contamination regulations.

Auto Club Lists Groups In Most State Accidents

DETROIT (AP) — The Automobile Club of Michigan says alcohol, young drivers and problem drivers with histories of accidents are to blame for most of the state's rising traffic toll.

In a 50-page analysis released today, the Auto Club said the drinking driver was involved in more than 50 per cent of the fatal traffic accidents in Michigan last year.

Drivers between the ages of 16 and 25, make up only 21 per cent of the motoring population, the study showed, but they were involved in 37 per cent of the fatalities.

The problem drivers were involved in 30 per cent of the fatal accidents although they make up only five per cent of the state's driving population, the study added.

Detroit and Genesee and Tuscola counties were singled out by the Auto Club as mainly responsible for the increasing number of traffic deaths.

Diabetes Linked To Soft Drinks?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal health officials acknowledge receiving reports linking diabetic aggravation to sugar-sweetened soft drinks in bottles that nonetheless were labeled sugar - free or containing less than 1 or 2 calories.

The returnable bottles in question are carryovers from the days when cyclamates were the principal artificial sweeteners in low-calorie beverages.

Administration officials in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare overruled the Food and Drug Administration in March and allowed continued use of the bottles without relabeling. Cartons and bottle caps, however, must indicate the presence of sugar.

Diabetics complain the bottle label is likelier to be read than the cap or carton. In any case, they say, the labeling on the bottle is in clear conflict with the cap and carton.

Cases of diabetes aggravation traced to soft drinks have been reported in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Ohio and Virginia. There are approximately four million diabetics in the nation.

The bottling problems arose after the government banned cyclamates from general purpose drinks last October. The sweetener had been linked to cancer, birth defects and genetic damage in laboratory animals.

The industry quickly shifted to new diet formulations that in most cases contained sugar. But countless millions of returnable bottles remain indelibly marked to indicate no sugar.

Federal food and drug officials recommended in October that stickers or neck bands be placed on the old bottles to clearly signal the presence of sugar. They also proposed to junk the bottles within one year.

Michigan has a larger variety of commercial tree species than any other state, and its forest product industries contribute almost one billion dollars annually to the Michigan economy.

No Spare Tires Will Be Needed In 1980, Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rubber experts predict that by 1980 new cars will no longer be equipped with spare tires, because they won't be needed, and the tires on the cars will be guaranteed for 150 miles an hour.

This and other predictions were presented Wednesday at a meeting of the Rubber Division of the American Chemical Society by Fred J. Kovac, manager of tire reinforcing systems at The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

Kovac said the experts predict that in the next 30 years passenger tires will be guaranteed for 100,000 miles and for speeds up to 200 miles an hour, and trains will be rolling on rubber tires at 500 miles an hour.

By 1984, Kovac said, tires will be totally puncture resistant and tire building will be completely automated. By 1985 the speed guarantee will be increased to 200 miles an hour and trains will be using rubber tires, he said.

Kovac said his study indicates there may be rubber tired metro trains and monorails; coast-to-coast freeways using electronic guidance systems to guide personal vehicles at speeds of up to 200 miles an hour; cross-country trains carrying personal vehicles to distant destinations; and perhaps cross-country freeways for air-cushioned vehicles that can be converted to urban use.

Guidelines

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan Hospital and the Saline Community Hospital have agreed to a "memorandum of understanding" establishing guidelines for institutional cooperation to "strengthen programs of patient care."

NEW YORK THEATERGOERS — After watching Katharine Hepburn star in "Coco," the Duke of Windsor has a wink for friends as he and his duchess leave the Mark Hellinger Theater in New York.

Drug Program Funds Okayed

LANSING (AP)—A $3 million supplemental spending bill, including $316,000 for initial work on a drug program at Detroit's Marine Hospital, has been given final legislative approval and sent to the governor.

The measure, which also grants some $775,000 for the House and $10,000 to Michigan State Police for bomb disposal equipment, was passed 24-11 by the Senate this week.

The House concurred in Senate amendments, which stipulate hospital funds should be used for a drug program only —and not mental hospital facilities, as initially included in the bill.

The additional House appropriation, which supplements some $4.98 million granted the lower chamber for its expenses during the 1969-70 fiscal year, drew some fire from senators, who questioned the amount representatives were spending for postage.

Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, said he believed there was "something wrong when we spend $645,000 for printing and postage for 110 House members and $316,000 for 8,000 heroin addicts and untold other drug abusers.

"That just doesn't make sense," said Brown, who voted against it.

Also questioning the need for the extra House appropriation was Senate Appropriations Chairman Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, and Senate Business Chairman Robert VanderLaan, R-Grand Rapids.

VanderLaan said figures showed Senate members had averaged some $1,233 apiece for postage this year, while House members had spent an average of more than $1,600 each.

Seek Organizer For Police Unit At State Capitol

LANSING (AP) — The State of Michigan is looking for a policeman with five years experience and a college degree in police administration to organize a security system at the state capitol.

The post pays $14,052 after four years on the job. Additional experience on the beat or as a plant guard may be offered instead of the degree.

Franklin K. DeWald, state personnel director, has run classified ads in 24 Michigan dailies for five days seeking applicants. The campaign is a departure from the usual practice of distributing examination announcements in the clerks office of all 83 counties of the state.

Ordinarily, the department makes a temporary appointment for a new job then requires the appointee to finish among the top three to keep it.

The deadline for applying is May 11. A written qualifying exam will be given later, with final selection set for June.

IT'S A TENSE MOMENT for the dog owners as they gather around the field trial secretary for the results of the winning dogs. Below are the winners of the field trial held Sunday morning. Left to right, Glenn Cory, Al Waurio, Tony Bazan, Jeff Johnson and Curt Carli.

'What, Me Worry'

Beagles Go To Trial

Pictures And Story
By
Lou Freeman

The Bay de Noc Beagle Club held their annual field trial last weekend and a large number of enthusiastic dog lovers turned out for the two-day event to watch the beagle hounds perform.

This particular field trial event is classified as Large Pack On Hare, and is sanctioned by the American Kennel Club. All hounds entered were required to be AKC registered and must meet specific qualifications.

All dogs participating in this event compete against one another and are awarded points according to their display of skill and trained ability.

The hounds are classed together according to sex and height and the names are then drawn to designate the group and time they will run.

Measured And Stamped

After the dogs have been measured and stamped with a number they are taken to the starting area at the edge of a fenced in woodland area, consisting of about 80 acres.

A path about six feet wide extends from end to end through the woodland and judges are staked out along this path. The woods consists of heavy under-growth and shallow swampland with wild rabbits quite plentiful in the area.

After the owners have released their dogs the judges begin awarding points. Points are awarded according to the dog's ability to locate and track a rabbit, consistency in leading the pack and the amount of time it takes to relocate a rabbit's trail. The judges' scoring systems will vary slightly, but these are the important things they look for.

Begins Barking

When a hound first rustles out a rabbit, he begins barking very excitedly. The other dogs then join in and the chase is on.

A dog that barks unnecessarily or appears lazy and uncooperative is disqualified and taken out of the contest.

All dogs are required to remain in the field trial for at least three hours but most of the trials take about four hours to complete.

A person who has never attended an event such as this might expect it to be quite a noisy experience, considering all the dogs that participate. On the contrary, however, these hounds are bred for this type of sport and the only time you hear barking is when the hounds are chasing a rabbit during a field trial.

Wins Championship

Northwood Bonnie Sue, owned by Dominic Leitza, Hurley, Wis., took first place in the 15 inch female class, and by doing so captured a field championship. In order to achieve this honor a dog must win three first places and accumulate a total of 120 points. Points are awarded according to the number of dogs competing in a pack and the position won.

Dog owner Allen Hendrickson commented, "the majority of the dog owners who participate in an event such as this are true animal lovers at heart and very few of them enjoy the sport of hunting."

The field trial was held at the Bay de Noc Beagle Club's 180 acre site, located about five miles north of Hyde on County Road 521.

The club sponsors a snack bar at the location which includes sandwiches, soda pop and cold beer.

Next Event Set

The public is invited to attend these events and the next scheduled field trial will be held in Iron Mountain on the weekend of May 16 and 17.

Anyone interested in joining the club may obtain further information by contacting Delbert Nelson Jr., 705 Montana Ave., Gladstone, GA8-9726.

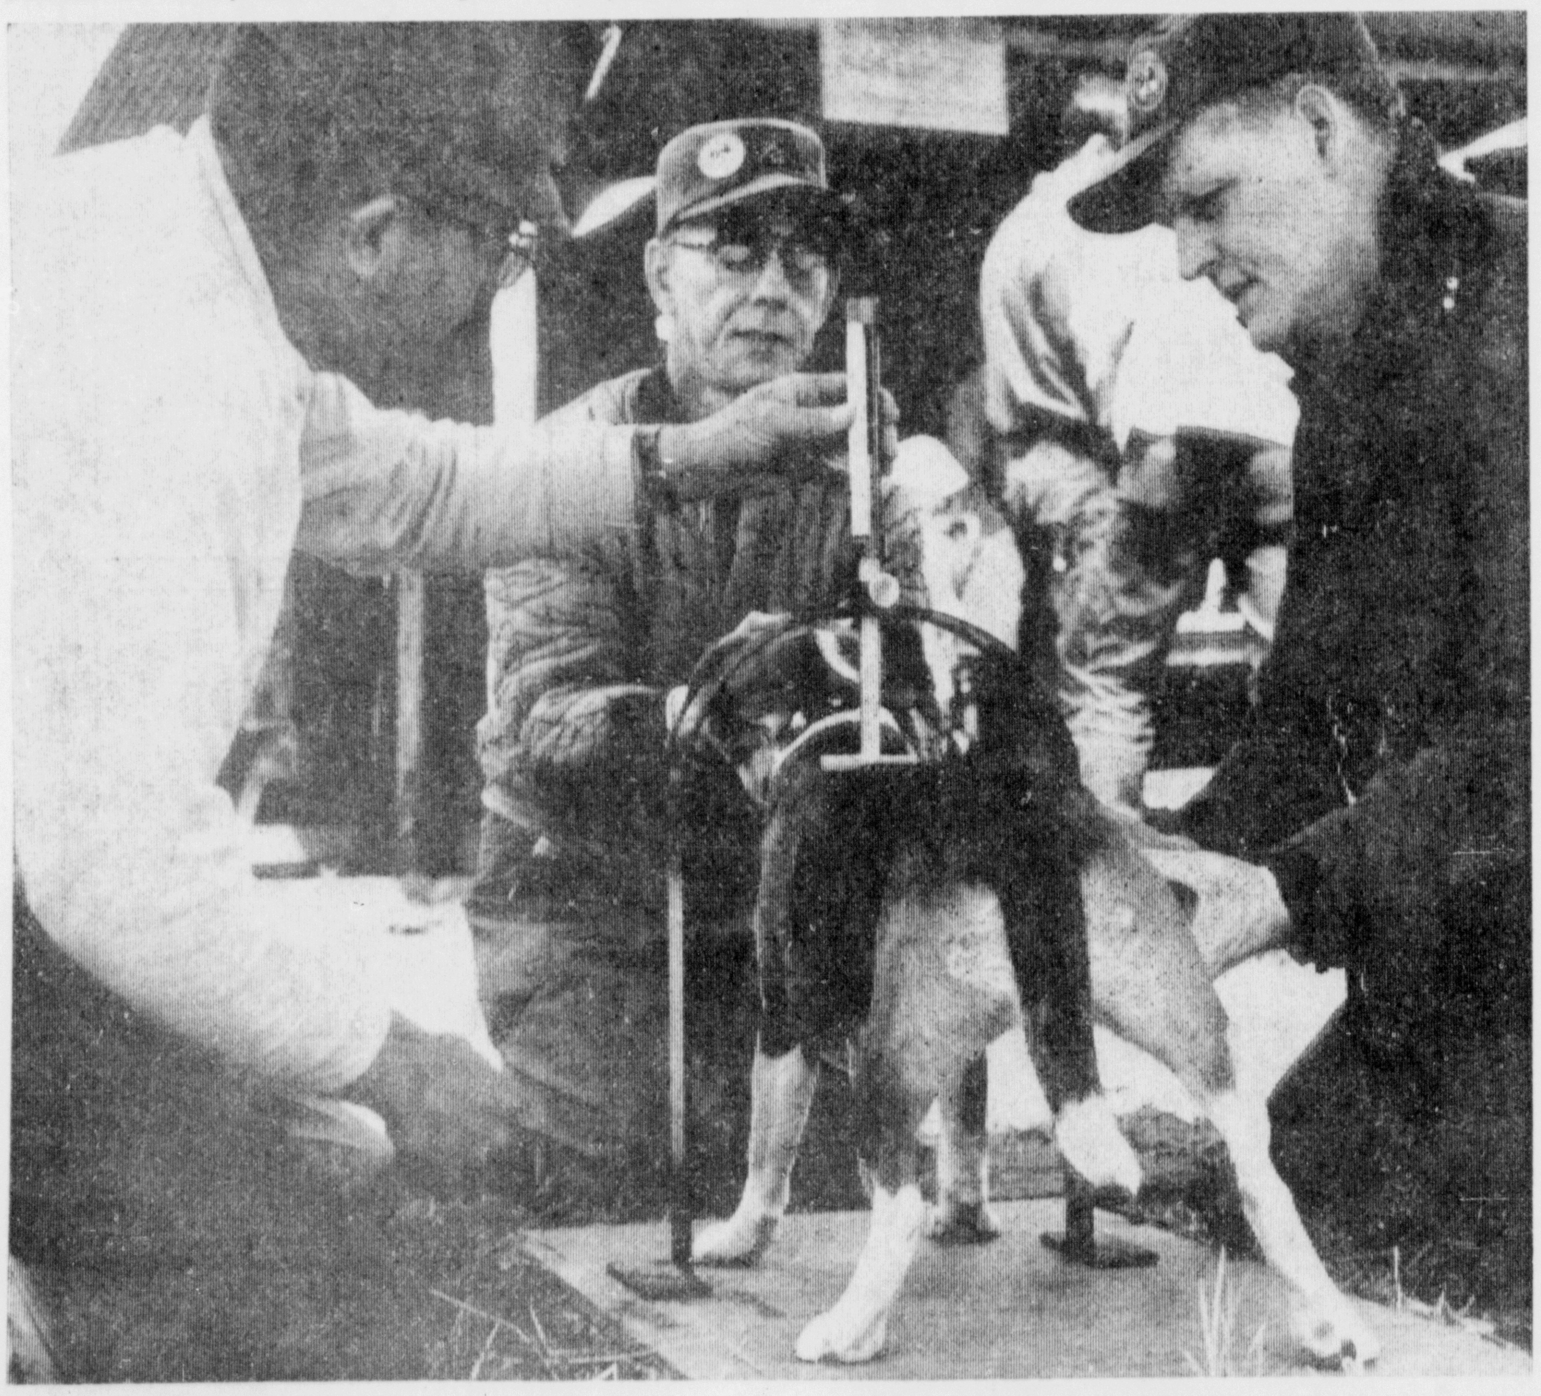
"OUTTA MY WAY, I'm comin' through." Excitement runs wild as the owners release their hounds for the chase.

JUDGES WATCH closely as two of the hounds try to pick up the rabbit's scent.



LEFT TO RIGHT, Mack Davis, Gladstone, Allen Hendrickson, Escanaba, and Matt Lewis, Escanaba, measure a beagle for height. The dogs are then grouped in 13 or 15 inch classes .

AMC In Thick Of Small Auto 'Showdown'

DETROIT (AP) — A bulletin board near American Motors' executive offices is headed "Beetle Battle Headquarters."

That brief message sums up the role which AMC has taken for itself as the first U.S. auto firm to market a minicar in a headon challenge to the imports, notably the beetle shaped Volkswagen, long king of the import field.

AMC's tiny Gremlin went on sale just a little over a month ago on April 1 while General Motors, Ford and Chrysler still were getting their minicars ready for introduction later this year or in 1971.

"There seems to be no question but that the Gremlin appeared at the right time," was the way Roy D. Chapin, Jr., AMC president, summed up his new car's performance in the sales race in its opening four weeks.

By comparison with VW's sales for the month, AMC's total was small but Chapin found it "encouraging."

Gremlin sales totaled 4,743 cars compared with the 49,116 which VW chalked up in the American market for the same month. By comparison with other recently introduced American cars, Ford's Mustang sold 21,900 cars in its first month and Maverick sales were 18,552 in its first month in April, 1969.

Chapin pointed out, however, that AMC's production lines were still picking up momentum and that only 9,000 had been built through April 25. He said that all 2,359 AMC dealers wanted a Gremlin or two for display purposes.

Crews Preparing Isle Royale For Summer Season

HOUGHTON (AP)— Isle Royale, Michigan's northernmost outpost, is still a snow-covered island — but National Park officials said Wednesday maintenance and utility crews soon will have it activated for the forthcoming tourist season.

They said that judging from the number of letters arriving at the National Park office in Houghton, the remote park is expected to have its largest number of visitors this year than ever.

During the winter, the island was populated mainly by 800 moose, 28 wolves and a variety of other animals.

The season opens June 20.

Another CBC Drive Rated Successful

Another successful CBC Drive has concluded with $6,900 raised to benefit three local charities, according to co-chairmen William Griffith and Rev. Theodore Doane.

Bay Cliff Health Camp will realize 40 per cent of the drive receipts or $2,760; the Cancer Society, 35 per cent or $2,415; and Crippled Children and Adults (Easter Seals), 25 per cent or $1,725.

Drive expenses, kept to the bone, the committee said, amounted to $61.80. They also pointed out that while the 1969 Drive brought in $7,000 there were not as many special events, such as the Mile of Pennies, employed in this year's activities. This year's quota was set at $6,100 and went over the top by $800.

Many people and organizations devoted time to the success of the drive, the committee noted, and any and all efforts are greatly appreciated.

Volunteer solicitors in the city worked under Zone Captains Mesdames Wallace Hokenson, Charlotte Richey, Richard Berger, Alfred Cook, Roland Hoholik, Conrad Hoholik, Lloyd Neville, Wallace Peck, Hazel Johnson, Donald Curran, John P. Quick, Donald DeSautel, Edward Jorgenson, Ronald Olson and included Mesdames George Houghton, Aldred Farley, Milton Lowery, Richard Demars, Helen Fiegel, Elmer Brazeau, Ted Kralik, Ronald Patrick, Frances Barr, Elmer Hamiel, Jerome Gregurash, Sylvia Lewis, Roberta Smith, Lydia Bouschor, Jean Brauer, Irene Berger, Tom Arnold, Glen Houghton, Henry DeSautel, Larry Anderson, Dan Roddy, Rodney Novenski, William Belleville, Ken Gillingham, James Redeker, Conrad Anderson, Ray Ranguette, Oliver Rehn, Leonard LaFleur and Misses Paula Klagstad, Charlene Greene, Florence Ann Berger, Catherine Cook, Debbie Fagan, Lois Nylander, Pamela Quick, Sherry Aller, Barbara Hentschell and Dennis Cook.

Township workers included Zone Captains Mesdames Myrtle St. Martin, Thelma Rojem, LaVerne Hamill, Robert Leny, William Hubble, Dorothy Thelander, Leo Curran, Nick Frankovich, Marian Gerber, Merrill Archey, assisted by Mesdames Robert Bowler, Vernon Lloyd, Charles Holbrook, Bessie Ruthven, Janet Hamill, Lindsley Frenette, Grace Jackson, Linda Klarich, Earl Burns, Grace Cook, Alberta Gerlach, Harold Casteel, Lowell Olson, Sherman Dewey, Lawrence Aldrich Sr., William Manning, Don Smith, Leroy Babbitt, Gerald Turek and the Misses Cindy Frenette and Cheryl Goudreau.

Mincoff Heads Urban Renewal Advisory Group

John Mincoff was elected chairman of the Citizen's Advisory Committee on Urban Renewal at a Tuesday night meeting in City Hall.

The committee reviewed a preliminary structural engineering report compiled by Ellis Naeyaert Associates of Warren. The report included exterior and interior evaluations of buildings in the downtown business district.

The interiors of two buildings on Walnut St. were not included in the evaluation since the engineers were refused admission by the owners, the report noted.

Urban renewal director Quenton Mitchell will prepare maps of the proposed district which will be available at the next committee meeting.

Barbara J. Lippens, Gary R. Sheedlo Wed

Barbara J. Lippens of Rte. 1, Gladstone, and Gary R. Sheedlo of Escanaba exchanged wedding vows during a double ring ceremony Saturday, May 2, at Holy Family Parish in Flat Rock.

Officiating at the nuptials at 2 p.m. was Rev. Raymond S. Przybylski. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Lippens Sr., Rte. 1, Gladstone, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Marion Sheedlo, 1028 S. 19th St.

Maid of honor was Patricia Geniesse of Menominee, the bride's niece, and bridesmaids were Carol Lippens of Chicago, Susan Solis of Rte. 1, Gladstone, both nieces of the bride, and Mary Gerou of Escanaba.

Serving as best man was Richard Champley of St. Paul Minn., cousin of the bridegroom, and groomsmen were Adolph Lippens. Jr., of Rte. 1, Gladstone, brother of the bride and Jerome Scheriff of Escanaba. Ushers were Larry Pratt and Bob Perron of Escanaba and Albert Lippens of Rte. 1, Escanaba.

The bride chose for her wedding a floor length gown of re-embroidered lace fashioned with a standup collar, long lace sleeves with ruffled cuffs and full tiered skirt with a tapered modified train.

A headpiece of nylon knit leaves trimmed with nylon net and pearls held her elbow length illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

The bridal aides wore floor length linen gowns styled with high ruffled collars and long sleeves with ruffled cuffs. The honor maid wore pink and the bridesmaids, blue. Matching headpieces completed their attire and they carried carnation bouquets tinted to match their gowns.

Carolyn Caron of Rte. 1, Escanaba, was the flower girl and she dressed in a miniature replica of the bride's gown. Carrying the rings was Jerry Lippens, also of Rte. 1, Gladstone. They are niece and nephew of the bride, respectively.

Mrs. Lippens wore for her daughter's wedding a blue dress with lace trim on the bodice and lace sleeves and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a yellow linen dress with floral lace applique trim and matching accessories. Both mothers were presented corsages to compliment their attire.

The reception was held during the afternoon and evening at the Flat Rock Town Hall. The rehearsal dinner was held Friday evening at the Stone House.

The newlyweds will honeymoon enroute to Fort Carson, Colo., where the bridegroom is stationed with the U.S. Army. The bride is a 1969 graduate of Holy Name High School and Mr. Sheedlo is a 1966 graduate of Escanaba Area High School and is also a graduate of Bay de Noc Community College.

Great Northern Track Meet Set For Friday

By DON HOWES

The sixth annual Great Northern Conference track and field meet will be staged at Menominee this Friday night with a field of about 200 athletes representing the six schools in the conference.

The Escanaba Eskymos are the defending champions, but the Holy Name Crusaders and the Menominee Maroons are regarded as chief challengers for this year's crown.

Menominee's cindermen will be shooting to give the school a clean sweep of conference athletic honors. The Maroons football and basketball teams have already grabbed GNC trophies this season.

The other schools entered in the meet are the Iron Mountain Mountaineers, the Kingsford Flivvers and the West Iron County Wykons.

After analyzing the local meets, the records that are outstanding for this year's meet, that must be tied or broken in order to produce a conference victory for Escanaba or Holy Name are as follows:

Season Standouts

Shot put - both Dan Young of Holy Name and Gary Brawley of Escanaba have tossed the iron over 49 feet.

Long jump - Jim Dubord of Holy Name and Steve Rolig of Escanaba are considered contenders, both have gone over the 20 foot mark this season.

High jump - John Beauparlant of Menominee has jumped 5' 10" twice this season and he will be one of the top contenders in this event.

Pole vault - Nick Knauf of Holy Name has been setting the pace with jumps of 11 feet, John Noblet of Escanaba and Dale Crane of Menominee are also considered threats in this event.

880 relay - Escanaba, Menominee and West Iron have been in the 1:36-1:37 clocking.

880 - Bob McGinn of Holy Name and Bruce Van Eyck of Menominee have been under the 2:08 mark.

High hurdles - Sid Homa of Menominee has been winning that event in times of :16.7 and :17.0, Dennis Severinsen of Holy Name and Bob Thompson and Rolig of Escanaba are also considered threats.

Mile - Noel Gannon of Holy Name and Mauri Simons of Escanaba have been looking good, with a 4:48.4 timing.

100 yard dash - Jim Dubord of Holy Name has been tough, with competition coming from Dan Jacques of Menominee and Rodney Deiter and Rolig of Escanaba.

Low hurdles - Homa, Severinsen, Rolig and Joe Krill seem to be the point producers in this event.

440 - Doug Howard and Bob Stone of Escanaba, Neil Odgers of Holy Name and Bob Theurkauf of Menominee have been either close or over the 54.7 timing.

Two mile run - Paul Guenette and Don DeGrand of Holy Name and Ivan Plude of Menominee seem to have the edge. Plude had a time of 10:11.4 in one meet this season.

220 yard dash - Dubord of Holy Name looks to be tough, with winning times in the 22 second class.

Mile relay - Escanaba and Iron Mountain seem to have the speed so far.

The trials and field events will begin at 4 p. m., with the finals slated for 6:30 p. m.

The following records will be the targets for the meet:

Cain Beats Twins; Szotkiewicz Hits First Home Run

DETROIT (AP) — Les Cain commutes 75 miles to his home in Bowling Green, Ohio — but that's a nuisance he may soon be able to forget.

Cain, the erratic, not-quite rookie southpaw, took a step closer to winning a more stable position with the Detroit Tigers when he survived countless jams in pitching his way to a 5-2 complete game baseball victory over the Minnesota Twins Tuesday night.

"I want to make sure I make this club before I move everything up here," he said after the win, which came with the help of five consecutive double plays.

Securing Position

"If he keeps it up it'll have to be someone else who goes down to Toledo," added Tiger manager Mayo Smith, pondering what to do when relief pitcher Daryl Patterson finishes his two week stint of active Army duty.

Cain was called up from Detroit's Toledo farm club May 1 as a replacement for Patterson.

The victory, coupled with Baltimore's 3-1 triumph over Kansas City, kept the Tigers 1½ games behind the first-place Orioles in the East Division of the American League.

Joe Niekro, 3-1, was expected to start for Detroit in today's rubber game of the three-game Minnesota series, with Jim Perry, 4-1, slated to pitch for the Twins.

Cain had a 1-0 record with Detroit in 1968 and his only previous major league decision was a loss to Chicago the day he was called up. In nine appearances he never went more than seven innings.

"I didn't have time to get nervous," he said. "Bam—right away I was starting."

A special ice-pack sleeve covered his left arm as he sat talking in the dressing room. His right arm shows the scars of skin grafts as a result of hot grease spilling on it when he was an 18-month-old baby.

Currently Cain is rooming with pitcher Earl Wilson when he can't travel to Bowling Green. But he makes the journey as often as possible.

Spring Training

He had a good spring training but still was cut, just prior to the Tigers trip north.

"I went to spring training to work on strikes," he shrugged. "You have to be disappointed when you do what they (coaches) say and you still get sent down."

"I figured, though, that if I did well at Toledo I'd get called up—but not so soon."

Although Cain put the lead Twin batter on base from the second through seventh innings, Tiger double plays erased the threat in the second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth.

"I'm glad they made all those double plays," said the 22-year-old native of California. "I was trying to keep the ball down."

"There were sure some fine plays made for him out there," Smith said. Third baseman Dalton Jones and shortstop Ken Szotkiewicz started two double plays each and second baseman Dick McAuliffe the other.

Szotkiewicz blasted his first major league homer, a solo blast in the sixth off Dave Boswell, 0-4, who was tagged for three Tiger runs in the opening inning.

A single by Norm Cash with two runners on gave the Tigers their first run. Jim Northrup singled in another, then Bill Freehan followed with another RBI single.

Willie Horton sent home the final Detroit run, doubling off reliever Steve Barber in the seventh after Al Kaline walked.

Cain's shutout was spoiled in the eighth by a two-run homer by Harmon Killebrew, his seventh round-tripper.

Blues Hope For Comeback Win

BOSTON (AP) — His team is on the ropes and staggering badly, much like a fighter out on his feet, but Scotty Bowman, coach of the St. Louis Blues, is going down with his head held high.

Bowman's club, obviously overmatched, plays the Boston Bruins tonight in the third game of the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup Finals. The Blues lost the first two games at home and most observers will be stunned if they don't drop the next and the series here, where the Bruins are virtually unbeatable.

The first two games were one-sided affairs and Bowman is the first one to admit that his club really hasn't been in the series.

"Let's face it," said Bowman, "we just haven't got it. Boston is a better team. I'm a realist about the whole thing."

Bowman's refreshing candor is an unusual quality in the coaching profession, but Bowman is an unusual guy. He pulls no punches. He doesn't try to paint a rosy picture out of a grim, gray landscape. And nothing was ever grimmer for the Blues than their situation today.

The Bruins are soaring. They have won eight straight games in the playoffs, something they never managed during the regular season. And they play the next two at home, where they have lost only three times in 43 starts this season.

If that's not grim enough, consider that the Blues, appearing in the Stanley Cup finals for the third straight year, have yet to win a game in the championship round. St. Louis was swept in four straight by Montreal in each of the previous two seasons, and the opening two losses to Boston left them with a 10-game final-round losing streak.

Knicks, Without Reed, Fall On Their Faces

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The New York Knicks and Los Angeles Lakers head back to Gotham for the seventh and deciding game for the National Basketball Association championship Friday night and the outcome may well depend on the Knicks' most valuable asset, Willis Reed.

The Lakers, with Reed on the sidelines, evened the title series at three games apiece before an appreciative crowd of 17,509 in the Forum Wednesday night running away to a 135-113 victory.

On Sidelines

Reed, in civilian attire, watched from the sidelines. He fell and suffered a painful muscle injury to his right hip in the fifth game Monday night in New York.

"Reed is a 50-50 possibility to play Friday night," said Coach Red Holzman. The 6-foot-10 star from Grambling, the NBA's Most Valuable Player in the regular season, left immediately after the game for further treatment — and rest — in New York.

The Lakers agreed New York is something with Reed — and something else without him.

Jerry West of Los Angeles summed it up when he said, "New York is in a bad way if Reed can't play."

The sixth game bore out a trend. Neither team has been able to win two in a row.

West got the Lakers off to a 2-0 lead and the team was never behind. The Lakers led by 20 points after the first and second periods, 19 after the third and refused to bend in the final.

Wilt Scores 45

The outstanding performer was giant Wilt Chamberlain, who topped the scoring with 45 points. He was also a huge figure on defense, snaring 27 rebounds.

Chamberlain, who said he was "truly sorry when Reed was hurt," said he didn't particularly go for such high scoring, just "if the opportunity presented itself." It did.

The Lakers built a 25-point lead in the first period, their highest of the evening, but a hefty margin melted to 13 midway in the fourth period. Were the Lakers worried?

"No," said Capt. Elgin Baylor. "There are moments when a team hits a cold spot. But we called time out and got our poise back."

"I thought we had some momentum going when we cut the lead to 13 but we just couldn't cash in," Holzman reflected.

"We'll be fighting for our life Friday night," said Dave DeBusschere, the Knicks' top scorer with 25.

Walt Frazier of the Knicks said, "home court has to be about a 10-point advantage for us. The Garden will be pandemonium and the crowd may dictate the pace of the game Friday night."

Seaver Sparks Mets To Victory

By The Associated Press

And now the envelope please for this year's Cy Young Award winner . . .

Would you believe Tom Seaver again? He has the vote of Los Angeles' Manager Walt Alston and probably some of his players.

"Seaver is tops with no questions," Alston said after the New York Mets' Cy Young winner of 1969 beat his Dodgers 5-4 Wednesday night in cold, blustery Shea Stadium.

Although Seaver needed ninth-inning relief help, he picked up his sixth victory this season and 16th in succession over two years in regular season play.

Hank Aaron crashed his 11th homer and Phil Niekro pitched a five-hitter as Atlanta beat Pittsburgh 3-0 for its ninth straight and Philadelphia rallied to edge San Diego 4-3 in the night's only other games. Snow halted San Francisco at Montreal.

Leading 5-1, Seaver opened the ninth with his eighth strikeout. But then he came unglued with a walk to Wes Parker, a single by Bill Sudakis and a three-run homer by Willie Crawford.

An infield single by Billy Grabarkewitz and a bloop hit to right by Ted Sizemore followed and Seaver gave way to Taylor. He got the last two outs.

The victory was Seaver's seventh straight over the Dodgers and his ninth in 10 lifetime decisions.

Aaron's two-run homer, 565th of his career, sent the Braves to a 2-0 lead in the opening inning and that was all Niekro needed to record his third victory in seven decisions.

Rico Carty extended his hitting streak to 25 games with a sixth-inning double that drove in Aaron with the Braves' other run. Aaron was on base with a single, his 2,988th lifetime hit.

It was Niekro's second shutout over the Pirates this year. He held them hitless for 6 2-3 innings last April 18 at Pittsburgh and wound up with a two-hitter.

Deron Johnson tied the score with an eighth-inning homer and Philadelphia pushed across the winning run on Ron Herbel's bases-loaded wild pitch to beat San Diego.

After Johnson's seventh homer of the season tied the score against Padres' starter Clary Kirby, Don Money walked and Herbel came in to pitch.

Larry Hisle singled Money to third and Larry Bowa walked, filling the bases. Herbel then retired Del Bates for the second out, but uncorked a wild pitch with Jim Hutto at bat.

K&K Kids Big Help As Brewers Win 4-3

By The Associated Press

They don't exactly conjure up memories of Mantle and Maris, the one-time M&M boys, but the Boston Red Sox will be a long time forgetting what Kennedy and Kubiak, the Milwaukee Brewers' K&K kids, did to them Wednesday night.

Between them—and including Wednesday night's accomplishments—the K&K kids have 21 major league home runs, a good month's work for Mantle and Maris.

But K&K were the Kings of Klout as far as the long-suffering Brewer fans were concerned. Their homers snapped a nine-game losing streak and provided the team's first home victory in six starts, 4-3.

Kennedy's 18th career homer staked the Brewers to a 3-0 in the fourth inning and, after the Red Sox caught up on Billy Conigliaro's solo homer and a two-run shot by Carl Yastrzemski, Kubiak unloaded the winner off reliever Ed Phillips with two out in the eighth.

Elsewhere in the AL, Baltimore defeated Kansas City 3-1, Detroit took Minnesota 5-2, California downed Washington 4-2, the New York Yankees held off Oakland 7-6 and the Chicago White Sox nipped Cleveland 2-1.

Baltimore beat Kansas City for the 16th consecutive time over two seasons behind Dave McNally, with ninth-inning help from Pete Richert. The Orioles pecked away for single runs in the second on Brooks Robinson's single and a double by Dave Johnson, in the seventh on Don Buford's triple and a single by Mark Belanger and in the eighth on Robinson's double, an infield out and Andy Etchebarren's sacrifice fly.

Carlos May, who tripled and scored in the seventh, cracked a one-out homer in the ninth to lift the White Sox past the Indians, ruining a four-hit, 15-strikeout performance by Cleveland's Sam McDowell.

The Yankees shelled ex-teammate Al Downing and two relievers for six runs in the fifth inning, two on Roy White's double and two on a wild pitch, and nipped Oakland for Mel Sottlemyre's 100th career win.

The Angels rallied for three runs in the eighth inning to beat Washington. Jim Fregosi singled and Jim Spencer doubled to tie the score and, after a two-out error by Aurelio Rodriguez filled the bases, Billy Cowan won it with a two-run pinch single. Frank Howard and Rick Reichardt homered for the Senators.

Tiger Tales

By The Associated Press

If Les Cain performs well during his two-week stay with the Tigers, manager Mayo Smith said he would send someone else down to their Toledo farm club.

"But I'm not saying who it'll be," he said.

It would likely be a pitcher. Cain replaced reliever Daryl Patterson who has just finished the first of a two-week Army active duty. Smith liked the way Cain pitched Wednesday night in his 5-2 complete game win over Minnesota in which the 22-year-old southpaw got out of numerous jams.

* * *

Cain is sporting an inch cut on his chin as a result of a minor auto accident Monday. He said he hit the back of a bus in Detroit after practice. It took four stitches to close.

* * *

Willie Horton and Al Kaline have eight-game hitting streaks going. Jim Northrup's next run scored will be his 300th, Dick McAuliffe needs two more runs-batted-in for 500, and 14 more at-bats will give Norm Cash a career total of 5,000.

* * *

Detroit's record is now 14-9 compared with 11-12 a year ago.

Sunday is free cap day at Tiger Stadium. Detroit faces the Kansas City Royals. Saturday the Tigers are holding their annual clinic for high school teams.

Nurses Ignore Resuscitation Needs, Report

ANN ARBOR (AP) — One of their own says too many nurses are drawing the line at mouth-to-mouth resuscitation because of "an unconscious, perhaps fastidious restraint" and too many people are dying because of it in heart-arrest and blocked-breathing cases.

But Sister Rosemary Fields of St. John's Hospital of Fargo, N.D., says she's even more disturbed by a survey which showed 96 per cent of a group of nurses were unable to perform cardiopulmonary (combination chest-pressure and mouth-to-mouth) resuscitation at "a level necessary to sustain life."

Sister Rosemary's views resulted from work she and Carolyn Janet Walker of Youngstown (Ohio) Hospital did in winning their master's degrees in nursing recently from the University of Michigan.

The partners, Sister Rosemary reported, found 84 per cent of nurses they surveyed in Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota and Ohio preferred to seek help from someone else or apply cardiac chest massage, rather than give mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Sister Rosemary said "mouth to mouth ventilation under asthetically repelling conditions may be a very real obstacle to immediate action."

But, she added, "the nurse has three minutes in which to perform a life-or-death procedure and she doesn't have time to turn to a textbook, let alone run down the hall for help."

Sister Rosemary and Miss Walker, who now is joining the Michigan nursing faculty, said the group of nurses they surveyed was statistically selected.

And because of what they learned, Sister Rosemary got some slides and literature from the American Heart Association, a couple of manikins and designed a 30-minute course in resuscitation—now given in the undergraduate school of nursing.

Taking the 96 per cent who flunked her original cardiopulmonary test, Sister Rosemary gave them her quickie course. A week later 44 per cent were adjudged adequate and 15 per cent borderline.

In contrast, 84 per cent of a group which did not receive the short course were unable to pass a second, follow-up test.

Learning to cope with a cardiac arrest is not only traumatic for the rescuer, but disastrous for the patient," Sister Rosemary wrote, insisting more nurses should get with mouth-to-mouth, even if it means the nurse has to remove the patient's or her own false teeth.

Ex-State Police Official Passes

JACKSON (AP)— Funeral services will be held today for William Hampton, former deputy commissioner of the Michigan State Police, who died in a Jackson hospital after suffering a heart attack.

Hampton, who retired in 1956, would have been 72 Wednesday. He died Tuesday.

Hampton also served as superintendent of the uniformed division and was a district commander during his long service with the force.

Drug Alert Week

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The mayors of six Kent County cities have proclaimed next week as drug alert week as part of a civic club's county wide drive against drugs.

The mayors of Grand Rapids, East Grand Rapids, Walker, Kentwood, Wyoming and Grandville issued the proclamation after requests from Kiwanis club members.
